

Jeopardy Directions

The Jeopardy PowerPoint can be used in various ways. Educators should feel free to adapt it to their lesson plan and classroom. Below is one possible way to use this fun, instruction tool.

This would be a 2-day unit.

Objectives:

- Learn about important moments in African American sports history.
- Practice note-taking skills.
- Work collaboratively to learn material in preparation for an enjoyable competition.

First Day:

- Students should be put into teams of 4 or 5 students and directed to the section about African American Firsts in Sports at the following webpage: <http://www.blackpast.org/?q=aah/101-african-american-firsts>
- Teams should decide among themselves which members will take notes on the different entries.
- Individual students will take notes on their entries in preparation for the Jeopardy game the following day.

NOTE: If you want to limit the research to the topics included in the accompanying Jeopardy game, use the following entries

~Professional Golfer: John Matthew Shippen, Jr., 1896
~Olympic medalist (Summer games): George Poage, 1904

~Olympic gold medalist (Summer games): John Baxter "Doc" Taylor, 1908
~NFL football coach: Fritz Pollard, 1922–1937
~Olympic gold medalist (Summer games, individual): DeHart Hubbard, 1924
~Major league baseball player: Jackie Robinson, 1947
~Woman gold medalist (Summer games, Individual): Alice Coachman, 1948

~Olympic medalist (Winter games): Debi Thomas, 1988
~Golf champion: Tiger Woods, 1997

Second Day:

- Students sit with their teams; individual students have their notes in front of them.
- Each team has blank sheets of paper in front of them and a Sharpie to write with (another option would be dry erase boards).
- The Jeopardy game is started with teams taking turns choosing the category and point amount.
- When a question is chosen, the moderator will read the question. All groups have an allotted amount of time to come up with an answer (10 seconds? 15 seconds?) and write it on the paper in front of them, being sure to shield their answer from the other teams.
- At the end of the allotted time, all teams will reveal their answers. The moderator will reveal the correct answer. Each team that is correct will get credited with the point amount of the question. Teams that are incorrect will lose the corresponding amount of points.

Scorekeeping:

- Jeopardy Board: The second and third-to-last pages contain Jeopardy boards. One can be used as an answer key. The other can be used to keep track of which questions have been chosen.
